MA MEDIA, COMMUNICATIONS AND CRITICAL PRACTICE

媒體、傳播分析與應用 文學碩士

February 2018 Intake

PROGRAMME HIGHLIGHTS

This MA Media, Communications and Critical Practice programme has been running for many years in London College of Communication, a pioneering world leader in creative communications education for 120 years.

This unique MA programme explores contemporary media and communications alongside the creative and professional practices that are central to the cultural industries. This programme has been designed for postgraduate students considering a career in media, creative industry or the cultural sector, as well as those who want to work in research and education. It will enable students to develop the intellectual abilities and gain the practical experience they need for employment within the rapidly changing media and creative industries. Students will explore contemporary approaches to the media and creative industries and their social and economic contexts, investigate how global and international perspectives, issues of diversity, equality and identity, and emergent environmental and ethical challenges relate to contemporary media production, circulation and consumption.
