Edinburgh Napier University is one of the largest higher education institutions in Scotland with over 18,000 students from 110 countries. It offers industry informed courses which combine the optimal balance of theory and practice, to equip our graduates for success in today's competitive global job market.

With more than 6,300 overseas students from outside the European Union, Edinburgh Napier is a truly international University with students from 110 countries.

Edinburgh Napier has been offering professional degrees in Hong Kong for more than 20 years. The University is proud to be the largest UK provider of Higher Education in Hong Kong, with over 3,000 students a year studying a range of courses.

- In the 2019 QS Stars international university rankings, the University scored five stars in categories including teaching, internationalisation and employability, and four stars overall.
- Ranked the top UK modern university for Criminology and a top 10 UK modern university for Sociology & Psychology in the Times & Sunday Times Good University Guide 2020.

The Bachelor of Arts (Honours) Social Sciences is designed to educate, inform and inspire students to face the complexities, challenges and opportunities of the 21st century. Graduates will be well placed to meet the needs of Hong Kong society, in particular for careers with government agencies and the social service sector. The specialist knowledge and transferable skills embedded in the programme will produce graduates capable of managing highly complex and stimulating jobs.

The programme combines the study of different social science disciplines such as psychology, sociology, cultural geography and politics. From the perspectives of these related and fascinating disciplines, students will learn to examine, investigate and understand human life and human experience. Students will develop a detailed understanding and the research skills to investigate the social world, relationships within it and the social forces that act on us all. This knowledge and specialist skills will be particularly useful to employers across all sectors.

Programme Highlights

- Co-teaching by lecturers from Edinburgh Napier University and local lecturers of related disciplines;
- Local lecturers of related disciplines applying theories to local contexts; and
- Opportunity for study in the UK

MAK Wing Yee, Winnie

- Associate of Applied Social Sciences in Psychology, HKU SPACE Po Leung Kuk Stanley Ho Community College (2012-14)
- Recipient of the HKU SPACE Scholarship (2015)
- Bachelor of Arts (Honours) Social Sciences (2014-16)

“ This programme offered professional knowledge in the field of psychology and sociology. The lectures consolidated my analytical skills and cultivated my critical thinking to evaluate the social issues. It encouraged me to be reflexive which enabled me to apply appropriate theoretical approaches into real life situation. I also acquired research skills in this programme which facilitated me to investigate things more precisely and comprehensively. ”

WONG Hei Yi

- Associate Degree in Social Sciences, The Community College at Lingnan University (2012-14)
- Bachelor of Arts (Honours) Social Sciences (2014-16)

“ This programme combines the study of psychology, sociology and cultural geography and politics. Co-teaching by overseas lecturers and local lectures allowed me to study these doctrines from a global perspective. Moreover, students of IC have access to the HKU library, which is no doubt a great convenience for us when doing research and writing dissertation. ”
