University of the Arts London (UAL) is the world’s 2nd best university for Art and Design in the QS World University Rankings by Subject in 2019 and 2020. The University offers an extensive range of courses in art, design, fashion, communication and performing arts. UAL’s graduates go on to work in and shape creative industries worldwide.

UAL brings together, in a single federated structure, six of the most famous art and design colleges in the world: Camberwell College of Arts, Central Saint Martins College of Arts and Design, Chelsea College of Arts, London College of Fashion, London College of Communication (LCC) and Wimbledon College of Arts. With a combined student population of approximately 26,000 and a global network of over 200,000 alumni, UAL is one of the world's largest academic centres for art, design and communication.

UAL is not only a centre of excellence in practice-based learning, but also a leading research university. UAL has been placed in the overall top 30 UK research institutions for the quality of research submitted in the Research Excellence Framework (REF) 2014. It is a top 5 research university in its broader peer group and first in the power ranking in the Art and Design, History, Practice and Theory category.

London College of Communication

LCC programmes are known for being industry focused. Students are taught by an inspiring community of experienced academics, technical experts and leading specialist practitioners. They are often commissioned to work on live briefs for major companies such as Nike, The National Trust and Nokia. LCC students go on to inform the future of the creative field. LCC’s alumni include TV presenters Craig Doyle and Kate Thornton; Charles Saatchi, art collector and the co-founder of advertising agency Saatchi & Saatchi. The college also houses a selection of famous archives. From filmmaker Stanley Kubrick to graphic designer Tom Eckersley, these are invaluable tools for teaching, learning and research.

The focus of BA (Hons) Contemporary Media Cultures is to examine the role media, cultural and creative processes play in shaping all aspects of contemporary social life. Students will learn about media and cultural theory with an emphasis on creativity, innovation, exploration, discovery and collaboration.

The programme guides students through a series of case study units that will help them understand links between the academic concepts and discussions explored in the degree and how these ideas can be applied using a range of media. This programme is unique because the practical elements are designed specifically to help students develop their critical thinking by putting their ideas into practice. They do not just learn what to do and how to do it. They also learn why they are doing it.

Programme Highlights

- On campus transfer opportunities are available for students to finish their final year in London, with all HK credits being counted towards the qualification;

- Students are eligible to apply for the MA Media, Communications and Critical Practice offered by UAL and other master’s degree programmes in relevant disciplines;

- HKDSE/IB students can complete a BA and an MA within 5 years; AD/HD graduates within 4 years;

- Students have the opportunity to learn media production skills on top of media and cultural theories under the guidance of experienced media lecturers.
