University of London Business Programmes

The University of London stands as one of the premier universities globally. It is a distinctive federation comprising seventeen independent higher education institutions that provide world-class education and research across a broad range of disciplines. Since its inception in 1836, the university has garnered a reputation for excellence in academia, founded on the exceptional teaching and research contributions of its colleges. Its degrees are internationally recognised by governments, universities, employers, and professional organisations for their high academic quality and standards.

For more than 150 years, degrees from the University of London have been made accessible to students worldwide through its Programmes. Throughout this time, numerous remarkable individuals who have pursued their studies with the University of London have played a significant role in shaping our global landscape. Among the distinguished alumni are seven Nobel Prize winners, leaders of Commonwealth nations, government ministers, celebrated authors, esteemed academics, judges, and influential business leaders. Today, the University of London federation represents one of the largest and most diverse student bodies in the world, with over 250,000 students from 190 countries.

Academic Direction: London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE)

The London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE) stands as a leading global centre for academic excellence and innovation in the social sciences. Founded in 1895 and joining the University of London in 1900, LSE has built a formidable reputation over the years. The University of London business programmes at HKU SPACE — comprising BSc Accounting and Finance, BSc Finance, BSc Business and Management, and BSc Economics and Management — benefit from the exceptional academic direction of LSE. Consistently ranked among the top universities in the UK, LSE exemplifies the highest standards of education and research.

Programme Highlights

- The degree is awarded by the University of London and the programme is academically developed and managed by the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE);
- In 2025, LSE is ranked 8th worldwide in the subjects of Accounting & Finance; 8th worldwide in the subjects of Economics & Econometrics; 12th worldwide in the subjects of Business & Management Studies; and 50th worldwide overall in QS World University Rankings.

“The UoL Business Programme at HKU SPACE offered the unique opportunity to gain an international education from a globally-renowned university (UoL) in my home city. Doing the BSc in Economics and Management provided a very well-rounded and in-depth education in both economics and general business. Studying with HKU SPACE also gave me the opportunity to attend intensive revision classes with foreign professors closer to the exam date, which had a hugely positive impact on exam performance. The degree has fortified my quantitative and qualitative skills, and achieving first-class honours has opened doors for me to pursue further education at the world's top business schools.”

LSE Experience - LSE Summer School

“Over the summer, I had an amazing experience at the London School of Economics and Political Science. Not only did I learn from an excellent institution, but I was also able to make unforgettable memories and make lifelong friendships. I am immensely grateful to this prestigious university and to all those who made this possible. This was an experience of a lifetime.”
