HKDSE graduates are eligible to apply for Year 1 Entry.

The programme has been accredited by the Hong Kong Council for Accreditation of Academic and Vocational Qualifications (HKCAAVQ) and is recognised under the Qualifications Framework. For the programme's QF level, QR registration no. and validity period, please refer to the respective programme page. For further details, please refer to the HKQR website (http://www.hkqr.gov.hk).

Postgraduate Diploma in Media and Cultural Critique is recognised under the Qualifications Framework (QF Level: 6; Registration No.: 10/000058/6; Validity Period: 01/09/2010 to on-going).

* Re-titling is subject to approval.

The bachelor’s and master’s programmes are exempted courses under the Non-local Higher and Professional Education (Regulation) Ordinance. It is a matter of discretion for individual employers to recognise any qualification to which these courses may lead.

The Postgraduate Diploma programmes are awarded within the HKU system through HKU SPACE.
Foreword by the Director

The global education dimension has always been a significant feature of the work of HKU SPACE dating back to the 1950s. Hence, over the past 60 years HKU SPACE has accumulated rich experience in offering overseas degrees in Hong Kong. It is evident that in the 21st century, education must take on a global perspective. HKU SPACE International College aims to nurture “Education with a Global Vision” and this Vision is permeated through both the School’s part-time and full-time programmes.

The International College (formerly ‘Centre for Degree Programmes’) was established in 2003 with a central mission to offer full-time programmes in collaboration with reputable overseas universities to provide a pathway to university education for local sub-degree graduates and increasingly high school graduates.

Over the past decades we have worked and developed excellent relationships with many highly respected world-renowned institutions, including University of London, The University of Western Australia and University of the Arts London (Central Saint Martins College of Arts and Design and London College of Communication). Together, we have developed and offered high quality undergraduate and postgraduate programmes to Hong Kong students. Currently, the School has about 35 overseas institutional collaborations offering some 136 academic programmes.

HKU SPACE, under a new Internationalization Strategy, will heighten its global exposure and proactively pursue collaborations with highly regarded overseas partners to provide niche programmes of high academic quality and of high demand to Hong Kong learners.

Professor William Lee
Director, HKU SPACE
Message from the Advisor

International College has endeavoured to provide students with a holistic approach to higher education and a sound basis for their future careers. Its aim is to continuously improve the value and quality of collaborative programmes to ensure the best interests of students are being met in terms of attaining the highest international standards.

Dr. Dorothy Chan
Advisor/ Deputy Director (Administration and Resources), HKU SPACE

Message from the Head

International College now provides over 30 programmes in collaboration with 11 universities. Our graduates are well sought after by employers. 95% of them received at least one full-time job offer within three months of their graduation in 2015.

The College’s greatest achievements come when working in partnership with long-established, comprehensive and specialist institutions in the UK and Australia, with HKU and visiting academics, with business and industry, government and the public sectors, and most importantly, with 2,000 full-time students and over 7,000 alumni.

In choosing a programme in International College, I am confident that you will be able to develop your full potential.

Ken Wong
Head, International College
International College: Education with a Global Vision

With the motto “Education with a Global Vision”, HKU SPACE International College [formerly ‘Centre for Degree Programmes’] was established in 2003 to offer full-time degree programmes for sub-degree holders. Over the past 13 years, 7,000 sub-degree graduates have been awarded a bachelor’s degree through the college. Since 2012, full-time business programmes at year-one entry-level have been made available for IB/HKDSE graduates.

In 2016/17, International College offers more than 30 full-time undergraduate programmes with a duration between 8 and 24 months. All programmes are delivered in collaboration with public universities in the UK and Australia. As the demand for postgraduate qualifications is on the rise in Hong Kong, International College also offers full-time postgraduate diplomas and master’s programmes in media, culture and sport management catering to the needs of degree holders.

Since 2011, International College has been working in partnership with Central Saint Martins College of Arts and Design (CSM) to introduce executive short courses ranging from the media to brand packaging and creative studies for senior executives. The College has also offered executive series on leadership and presentation with the Royal Central School of Speech and Drama (Royal Central), University of London since 2014. Its recent development includes the launch of the first-of-its-kind executive programme in Collecting Contemporary Art, in collaboration with CSM and Art Basel, which has continued to receive overwhelming responses.

International College has put its full support behind arts and media education at postgraduate level through the launching of two master’s programmes in 2016. The MA Arts and Cultural Enterprise is a new initiative with CSM that aims at nurturing multi-skilled talents who can both realise creativity and manage arts and cultural businesses. The MA Media, Communications and Critical Practice, in collaboration with London College of Communication, University of the Arts London (UAL), focuses on social media and cultural practices.
10 Reasons to Study with International College

Selecting a good university that can offer you with the best in academic excellence, career prospects and professional recognition is important. International College takes pride in providing you with these, and much more to every young adult.

1. Academic Excellence
   Collaborating with 11 world-class universities, with some ranked in the world’s top 100*, the College provides you with a wide range of university programmes, from undergraduate to postgraduate to executive level. Students completed their full-time programmes shall be conferred with the identical awards as those studying on home campuses.

2. Career Prospects
   Our degree graduates are highly regarded by employers, local and overseas universities. According to the Graduate Survey 2015, 95% of the College graduates secured at least 1 full-time employment in less than 3 months after graduation.

3. Value for Time
   Students holding Associate Degree or Higher Diploma qualification can complete their undergraduate studies in 8 to 24 months, depending on the nature of programmes.

4. Competitive Fee Level
   Tuition fees for all undergraduate programmes (senior-year entry) range from around HK$66,000 to HK$140,000, comparable to the fee level of local bachelor’s degree programmes.

5. Global-local Teaching
   Programmes in the College are delivered by over 100 local lecturers and 90 visiting lecturers from overseas, including 10 full professors from the UK and Australia.

6. Professional Recognitions
   Many programmes offered by the College are accredited by local and overseas professional associations including ACCA, CIM, CIMA, CIPR, CPA Australia, HKICPA and HKIM, just to name a few. Graduates can usually obtain maximum exemptions for their professional memberships.

7. Scholarships and Bursaries
   International College and its partner universities offer over 150 scholarships and bursaries for full-time students in 2016/17 academic year.

8. Exceptional Facilities
   Studying in HKU Town Centre, students can easily access to the libraries and sport facilities of the University of Hong Kong. Web-based blended learning facilities are also offered by all partner universities.

9. All-rounded Student Supports
   International College offers a full range of counselling support for students’ personal development as well as tailor-made services for career developments.

10. Valuable Alumni Networks
    Graduates will become a member of the valuable alumni networks of the awarding university, International College as well as HKU SPACE. Graduates can keep up to date with these networks; seek advice and gain support locally, regionally and globally.

HKU School of Professional and Continuing Education
香港大學專業進修學院

Established in 1956/57, The University of Hong Kong’s Department of Extra Mural Studies (DEMS) was the first continuing education unit in a university in the region. In 1992, DEMS was renamed as the School of Professional and Continuing Education (HKU SPACE). As the continuing education arm of the University, HKU SPACE now fulfills its mission through providing learning opportunities for personal, professional and career advancement for people from all walks of life. With nearly 1,000 full-time staff members and some 2,000 part-time teachers, HKU SPACE is a leading local provider in continuing education. Annual course enrolment is close to 90,000.

HKU SPACE also collaborates with a wide range of academic institutions globally (in the UK, Australia, the USA, Mainland China and Hong Kong). The School will continue to explore opportunities for further cooperation with reputable institutions, both local and overseas, in order to offer a greater variety of high quality and relevant programmes to students.

Central Saint Martins College of Arts and Design (CSM), University of the Arts London (UAL)
倫敦藝術大學中央聖馬汀藝術設計學院

CSM is one of the world’s leading institutes for arts and design education. With its 150 years of history, CSM’s famous alumni include some of the most important British and international artists from famous painters such as Lucien Freud and Frank Auerbach who studied fine art at St Martin’s in the middle of the 20th century; to Sir James Dyson, the industrial designer and founder of Dyson Industries; A.S. Byatt, the British author; Colin Firth, the actor and winner of BAFTA’s Best Actor Award and to the latest wave of the world’s celebrated designers including Katharine Hamnett, Marc Jacobs, John Galliano, Alexander McQueen and Stella McCartney.

Edinburgh Napier University

Edinburgh Napier University is one of the largest higher education institutions in Scotland with around 18,000 students studying professional and relevant courses at all levels of award. In 2009, Edinburgh Napier received a Queen’s Anniversary Prize for Higher and Further Education. This highly prestigious prize is granted biennially to universities and colleges demonstrating work of a world-class standard of excellence.

Edinburgh Napier is one of the top ten universities in the UK for graduate employability and graduates have one of the best employment prospects of all Scottish universities. A recent study from the Higher Education Statistics Agency (HESA 2013) showed that more than 95% of Edinburgh Napier’s graduates obtained jobs or progressed onto further studies six months after graduation.

The University of Hull

Established in 1928, the University of Hull encompasses world-class teaching, research, impressive facilities, and a strong support network for over 23,000 students.

The University is ranked 63rd in the 2016 Complete University Guide. Independent surveys have repeatedly shown that our undergraduates are some of the most satisfied students – we have been voted into the top ten universities for student satisfaction in six out of the eight annual National Student Surveys carried out so far. According to the International Student Barometer, 89% of our international students were satisfied or very satisfied with their overall learning experience.

London College of Communication (LCC), University of the Arts London (UAL)

LCC courses are known for being industry focused so you will be taught by an inspiring community of experienced academics, technical experts and leading specialist practitioners. LCC students are often commissioned to work on live briefs for major companies such as Nike, The National Trust and Nokia, and our graduates go on to inform the future of the creative field – our alumni include TV presenters Craig Doyle and Kate Thornton; Charles Saatchi, art collector and the co-founder of advertising agency Saatchi & Saatchi; and Bonnie Wright, the actress playing the role of Ginny Weasley in the Harry Potter series. LCC is also proud to house a selection of famous archives. From filmmaker Stanley Kubrick to graphic designer Tom Eckersley, these are invaluable tools for teaching, learning and research.

The University of London is truly one of the greatest universities in the world. The University is a federation of 18 world-class Colleges and 10 specialised institutes, with a student population of more than 170,000. The University's reputation for high academic standards has been built on the outstanding teaching and research of its Colleges since 1836, and its degrees are recognised internationally by governments, universities, employers and professional bodies as being of a high academic quality and standard.

For over 150 years, University of London degrees have been accessible to students all over the world through the University of London International Programmes. Today, the University of London International Programmes is truly international in character with more than 54,000 students in 180 different countries.

Academic direction for all of the courses offered through the University of London International Programmes is provided by the Colleges of the University. Academics at these Colleges develop the syllabi, prepare the study materials, and are responsible for the assessment of students.

London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE):

The four BSc degree programmes in business-related field are academically developed and managed by London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE), which has consistently been ranked at the highest level amongst universities in the United Kingdom. In the 2015 QS World University Rankings, LSE was ranked 35th worldwide; and 4th worldwide in the subjects of Economics & Econometrics and 5th worldwide in the subjects of Accounting & Finance.

Middlesex University London

Middlesex is an international university with roots in North London. The University is committed to meeting the needs and ambitions of a culturally and internationally diverse range of students by providing challenging academic programmes underpinned by innovative research and professional practice.

Middlesex is an outstanding teaching university. Working with over 300 prestigious international academic partners, Middlesex is the first British university to achieve the highest rating possible for their collaborative provision around the world. According to the previous report from the Quality Assurance Agency (QAA), the auditors showed confidence in the University's current and likely future management of its academic standards and of the learning opportunities available to students.

Middlesex is also one of very few universities to have been awarded three Queen's Anniversary Prizes for Higher and Further Education.

Situated in Perth, the University of Western Australia (UWA) celebrated its 100th anniversary in 2012, making it one of Australia’s long-standing, high quality academic institutions. UWA is recognised internationally as a leading university. Its groundbreaking research, quality academic staff and state-of-the-art facilities combine to offer a vibrant student experience.

As Western Australia’s leading university, UWA was rated second overall in Australia by the Good Universities Guide 2012 based on key performance measures such as graduate starting salaries, employment prospects, staff qualifications, research intensity and student demand. The QS World University Rankings 2015/16 placed UWA at 98th internationally, among the World’s Top 100 with HKU, HKUST and CUHK.

UWA is the only Western Australian university to belong to the “Group of Eight” - a coalition of the top research universities in Australia - and it is one of only two Australian universities to belong to the Worldwide Universities Network, a partnership of 16 research-led universities from Europe, North America, North Asia and Australia.

The Faculty of Arts is one of the largest founding faculties at UWA, and has been offering a wide range of arts, humanities and social sciences programmes for almost a century.

Governance of International College

International College's Senior Staff Meeting (SSM) governs the strategic development of the College and serves as the Academic Board for all Arts, Media and Culture programmes. SSM is responsible for the monitoring of the progress made primarily in areas of administration and resources, student recruitment and support services.

The overall operation is managed by the Head of International College. The Head is also responsible for implementing strategic policies established by SSM. The execution of all operational matters is assisted by the College’s Administrative Team. All academic matters are managed by the Head, the Associate Head and the relevant Programme Leaders within HKU SPACE. Meetings with programme leaders and senior staff members in International College are held on a monthly basis.

Programme Selection and Approval

Because of the extreme importance of having high quality undergraduate and postgraduate programmes offered through International College, the selection and the approval of programmes have to go through a very rigorous process. The approval process for a new programme is a lengthy and closely scrutinised one. Any new programme proposal going through the entire process of selection to its final approval is carefully planned and meticulously executed to ensure that the highest international standard is met.

Quality Assurance

Since many of the programmes offered in International College are in collaboration with partner universities, most of them have a long history and have withstood the test of time. Notwithstanding this fact, these programmes have to be closely scrutinised by senior academics and industry professionals before accepting them for launching in International College. Some professional programmes will also be subjected to advice and accreditations by HKCAAVQ and professional bodies, e.g. HKICPA, thus providing further quality assurance.

The quality of teaching and learning is assured by having the programmes offered by highly qualified and experienced academic staff. The performance of teaching quality is regularly monitored by various academic committees, peer reviews, class visits, learning experience surveys and staff-student liaison committees.

Student performance is regularly monitored by mid-term tests, assignments, in-class presentations, group projects and examinations. Academic results are independently moderated by external examiners who are senior academics in the United Kingdom, Australia and Hong Kong.
Learning Experience

Studying in the Central Business District
International College students are provided with a range of facilities and services for the purpose of enhancing their learning and holistic development. In addition to the entire of 6th floor in United Centre, International College also uses classrooms and facilities located in HKU Town Centre (on the 2nd and 3rd floors of Admiralty Centre) to provide better services to students.

Dual Registration
Undergraduate students enrolled in International College will have dual registration* with HKU SPACE and the collaborating university. Student ID and facilities card will be issued to full-time students allowing them to use the libraries and sports facilities of the University of Hong Kong. They are also given full access to the online libraries of the overseas universities, allowing them to make use of all available international resources 24/7.

(G)local Learning Experience
Undergraduate programmes offered in International College are selected based on their high academic standard as well as relevance to the ever-changing global economy. While maintaining a global perspective, the curricula also incorporate local experience and insights, with emphasis on the applicability of concepts and skills to the workplace. A number of programmes offer further flexibility for students who wish to transfer to the overseas university campus, allowing full credit transfer for modules successfully completed in Hong Kong.

* Dual registration is not applicable to students enrolled to Executive Series and to the PgDip programmes awarded within the HKU system through HKU SPACE.

This 18-month comprehensive programme enables you to take a critical look at culture and the mass media. It looks at how media products are produced and circulated, and put this in the context of the wider society we live in and the different cultures we belong to. Students will learn about photography, newspapers, film, documentary and the Internet, and also how these relate to broader issues such as globalisation, consumer culture and new technology.

This is the longest running international undergraduate programme in media and cultural studies in Hong Kong. Since 2002, there are over 2,000 graduates and fast-growing alumni network in the field.

"I think that every step you make is another chance you take. This course provides a perfect way to gain a degree if you have no offer from the local universities. Although the main purpose is to take a degree, if you have a good attitude to study, you receive an unexpected result and learn much much more. If you decide to enjoy and put all your effort to do your best, you will not make a step that you regret. If I did not study this course, I may not have understood what career I wanted to pursue."

Flexible Study Mode

- Intensive classes are usually held near the beginning of each module over a long weekend (Friday, Saturday and Sunday).
- Learning will then continue in the form of online learning, support and feedback by CSM, as well as face-to-face tutorials, seminars, guest talks and workshops led by HKU SPACE academic staff and industry practitioners.

Careers

Graduates will be prepared to take a management position or a role within a leading team in the field of arts and cultural production. The entrepreneurial spirit of the programme might also encourage some graduates to set up their own company or creative practice, or to work as a consultant.

Specific roles a graduate might fulfil include: festival director; event manager; cultural sector entrepreneur; senior manager within an arts institution or organisation; cultural policy adviser within government; arts and community engagement adviser within a corporate enterprise; consultant to creative sector venture capital funds and angel investors (investors from the not-for-profit and philanthropic sectors).

Facilities and Student Support Services

HKU Libraries
Full-time undergraduate and postgraduate students have full access to the University of Hong Kong library which is located at the main campus and is within easy reach from the International College campus in Admiralty by bus and now by MTR.

The University library consists of the Main Library and six specialist branch libraries. The total stock of volumes in the libraries is over 2.6 million, including printed titles and substantial holdings of non-print items. Over 24,000 periodical titles are currently received. Over 2,800 readers’ places are provided throughout the system including the audio-visual and microcomputer sections. The Main Library alone contains over 1,200,000 volumes of materials. It is also well-stocked with materials on China and the Far East and many of these materials are stored in its Rare Book Room.

E-learning Platforms
To provide students with continuous support in their studies, HKU SPACE has developed the Learner Portal, a key component of which is the HKU SPACE Online Universal Learning (SOUL 2.0) system. This system provides facilities such as web-based collaborative learning and communications, virtual meeting room, course material delivery, online assignment submission and marking and other e-learning features. Students will have full access to these facilities.

All overseas universities participating in International College programmes have online support systems of a nature similar to SOUL 2.0. Registered students of International College will be able to make full use of their overseas system provided by the partner universities. In addition, students will also have the right to access to the relevant database through the internet.

Co-curricular Activities
To facilitate students’ holistic development and expand their horizons, International College organises a wide array of co-curricular activities, including overseas study programmes, guest talks and workshops.

• International College-ECNU Shanghai Winter Study Programme
This programme enables students to broaden their intercultural outlook by exploring Shanghai’s past and present, discovering local culture, lifestyle and art development. They can also experience East China Normal University’s campus, hall life and study with ECNU students.

• CSM London Summer Study Programme
This programme provides a valuable opportunity for students to enroll into a summer course in Central Saint Martins College of Arts and Design (CSM), one of the world’s leading institutes for arts and design education with 150 years of history.

• Expanding Horizon Talk Series
Covering a wide range of non-academic topics which aim to enrich students’ knowledge and broaden their perspectives.

• English Language Workshops
This workshop series aims to help students improve their academic writing, including writing, citation, reading, speaking and listening skills. Each workshop is conducted in a small-group, interactive and relaxing environment.
Student Counselling and Development Services

Counselling and Consultation
Students entering into a new learning environment may encounter problems, which ultimately could affect their study. Problems such as study pressure, change in family boundaries, interpersonal problems and perhaps others would have to be addressed and resolved to ensure students can pursue their studies at their optimum personal condition. For this purpose, the Student Development and Counselling Services (SDCS) unit provides full services to all undergraduate students. Students in need can have free access to the counselling office located at the International College main campus where students can discuss their problems with a counsellor in full privacy.

Career Development
Career consultation is provided to students in several ways. It provides students with essential skills in the career seeking process such as writing letters of inquiry for job opportunities, preparing resumes, preparing students for job interviews, on matters such as dress code, proper attitude and mannerism.

Career consultation services also assist students in analysing the supply and demand of the job market, and career prospects including opportunities for advancement.

To further assist students in their job seeking, SDCS organises job hunting workshops, company visits, career seminars, recruitment talks as well as providing job posting services for all students.

Personal Development
To enable students graduating from International College to be better prepared for future challenges, International College is determined to provide all-round education. Seminars and workshops have been organised regularly to assist students to improve their self-understanding, explore and better utilise their personal potentials, and to acquire essential skills such as study skills, emotional and stress management.
Outside the Classroom

International College is committed to providing comprehensive education with a global vision and fully developing the academic knowledge and personal strengths of its students. Students are encouraged to participate in activities and programmes organised by the College, Students’ Union (SU) and Alumni Association (AA).

Students’ Union (SU)

SU organises a variety of activities for fellow students, covering social, cultural, recreational, charity and voluntary services. Featured events include: Orientation Camp, Athletic Meets, Sport Competition, Singing Contest and High Table Dinner.

Alumni Association (AA)

AA was established in 2008, with an aim to promote fraternity amongst graduates, students and staff.
